

Advent Altro and Advent Elite Laptop

The Advent Altro Notebook is a highly portable, slim mobile computer with a thickness of just 2.1cm and a weight of 1.6kg. It also incorporates the anti-shock technology which protects it from drops and jerks.

It has a 13.3" widescreen monitor. Intel's CULV (Consumer Ultra-Low Voltage) processor is used for the internal processing. A 3GB RAM and a 120GB hard drive are housed in this notebook and it ships with Microsoft Windows Vista

Like many of the other slim beauties (Apple MacBook and Dell Adamo), the Advent Altro too does have the charm to impress anyone at the first sight. It has a metallic finish. Along the sides are 2 USB ports, an HDMI port, a headphone socket and a multi-function port which lets you hook up an external port replicator. The touchpad of this laptop has multi-touch capability, like the iPhone. A finger-print scanner is present as well. A web camera is also packed in.

The Advent Altro 13.3" Laptop supports Bluetooth as well as WiFi wireless technologies. The battery employed in it gives a life of about 4 hours.
